Thur 3rd Sept. Zanzibar-born singer, and charismatic performer Mim Suleman brings her vibrant, soul-stirring fusion of East African heritage, Swahili lyricism and global rhythms to the acoustic stage.

Fri 4th Sept. 'Broken folk' duo Lunatraktors fuse body percussion, harmonic singing, tap-dance and live looping to create dark, playful re-workings of the folk archive.

Sat 5th Sept. Award-winning duo Max & Veronica deliver vintage blues, ragtime and jazz with irresistible charm, wit, and groove - turning every concert into a warm, joyful experience.

Sun 6th Sept. Lennie Gallant, an acclaimed East Coast songwriter with sixteen albums and numerous awards, is Canada's most revered songwriter and musician.

Mon 7th and Tue 8th Sept. Jason Buck Storyteller brings a chance to see his sell-out show of the legends of the Norse, of the Viking gods, monsters ... and plenty of giants along the way.

Wed 9th and Thu 10th Sept. Gabriel and The Quivering Poets return to Sheffield with a new album, 'Carousel of Love'. Be ready for a mind-blowing fusion of poetry, music and emotion.

Sun 13th Sept. Mills and Farrell are noted for their rootsy minimalist approach. The duo have a timeless sound characterised by intricately woven acoustic guitars and tight harmonies.

Mon 14th Sept. Join Dr Michael Walsh - Ethnomusicologist and celebrated performer of traditional Irish music with a distinctly Mancunian edge as he marks the completion of his University of Sheffield doctoral research on wooden flute playing and identity in Asturias, northern Spain, in conversation with folklorist and writer Nicky Crewe.

Tue 13th & Wed 14th Sept. 'One of the most renowned voices in tango in the world today' La Radio 2x4, Buenos Aires. In these special close-up performances, these joyous 'portenos' from Buenos Aires will transport you to the soul of tango and Argentina. Tickets £22.00.

Thur 17th Sept. An evening with the Hunters, celebrating the life of Hank Williams, the long-gone daddy of honky tonk who wrote some of the best-loved classic country tunes including Jambalaya and Hey Good Looking.

Fri 18th Sept. Billie Maree is a singer-songwriter, musician, and producer from Totnes, whose music is deeply rooted in personal experience.

Sat 19th Sept. Wielding a cello and strikingly crafted vocals, Australian artist Monique Clare delivers indie-folk laced with chamber pop.

Sun 20th Sept. John "Papa" Gros is a bedrock artist, a keyboardist, singer and songwriter who draws on funk, rhythm and blues and American songcraft.

Wed 23rd Sept. Petunia's music is infectious, his singing ranges from the most delicate you've ever heard to the most powerful, often single song ... hillbilly-flavoured-swing inflected ragtime-goodtime. Tickets £19.30.

Thur 24th Sept. An accomplished singer-songwriter from Manchester whose soulful vocals never fail to stop people in their tracks. Anyone who appreciates music with soul and a groove will enjoy what John Kenzie has to offer.

Fri 25th and Sat 26th Sept. The Often Herd reach beyond what is expected of a bluegrass band marrying the wistful sunshine harmonies of Southern California with the striking industrial allure of their home in the North East of England. Tickets £19.30.

Sun 27th Sept. Tóchar are a Glasgow-based fiddle and guitar duo offering thoughtful interpretations of traditional and contemporary Celtic material.

Wed 30th Sept. UK-based pianist and composer Simeon Walker has quickly emerged as a leading light in the burgeoning Modern Classical scene, following the release of his first album Winnow.
